

PLANIT
TEACHERS

English Language Basics for Beginners: Greetings and Introductions

---

Student Name: _____

Class: _____

Due Date: _____

Introduction to Greetings and Introductions

Welcome to this homework assignment on basic English greetings and introductions. This worksheet is designed to support your learning objectives and help you confidently use greetings and introductions in real-life scenarios.

Match the greetings and introductions with their meanings:

Greeting/Introduction	Meaning
Hello, how are you?	_____
Goodbye, see you later.	_____
My name is [Name].	_____
I am from [Country].	_____

Complete the sentences with the appropriate greetings or introductions:

1. When you meet someone for the first time, you say _____.

2. To end a conversation, you can say _____.

Conversational Practice

Practice the following scenarios with a partner:

1. Introducing yourself to someone new.

2. Greeting a friend you haven't seen in a while.

3. Saying goodbye to someone.

Write a short script for each scenario. Then, act out the scenarios, using the scripts as guides.

Real-Life Applications

Create scenario cards with different social situations (e.g., meeting a new classmate, attending a job interview).

Write how you would greet someone or introduce yourself in each situation.

Extension Activities

For advanced learners or those who complete the main activities quickly, consider the following extension activities:

1. Cultural Research: Research how greetings and introductions vary across different English-speaking countries. Present your findings in a short report or presentation.

2. Video Recording: Record yourself in different greeting and introduction scenarios. Reflect on your performance and identify areas for improvement.

Success Criteria

To successfully complete this assignment, ensure you:

- Can correctly match greetings and introductions with their meanings.
- Can fill in the blanks with appropriate greetings or introductions in sentences.
- Can participate in role-play scenarios confidently.
- Can write appropriate scripts for greeting and introduction scenarios.
- Can apply greetings and introductions in real-life scenarios.

To support your child's learning:

- Encourage Practice: Encourage your child to practice their greetings and introductions with you or other family members.
- Provide Feedback: Offer constructive feedback on their pronunciation and confidence.
- Real-Life Opportunities: Create real-life opportunities for your child to use their new skills, such as introducing themselves to new people or greeting family friends.
- Time Management: Help your child manage their time effectively to complete the assignment within the estimated 30-40 minutes.

Assessment

Use the following criteria to assess your understanding:

- Can you correctly match greetings and introductions with their meanings?
- Can you fill in the blanks with appropriate greetings or introductions in sentences?
- Can you participate in role-play scenarios confidently?
- Can you write appropriate scripts for greeting and introduction scenarios?
- Can you apply greetings and introductions in real-life scenarios?

Conclusion

By completing this homework assignment, you will have enhanced your understanding and use of basic English greetings and introductions, laying a solid foundation for further language learning. Remember to practice regularly and apply your new skills in real-life scenarios.