

Student Name: _____

Class: _____

Due Date: _____

Introduction

Welcome to this exciting homework assignment! In this activity, you will explore your likes, dislikes, and hobbies, and express them through writing and drawing. This assignment is designed to help you develop your critical thinking, independent learning, and effective communication skills.

Section 1: My Likes

Write down three things you like doing in your free time.

Be as specific as possible. For example, instead of saying "I like sports," say "I like playing soccer with my friends."

Use the space below to list your three likes:

Section 2: My Dislikes

Write down three things you dislike doing.

Be honest, but remember to be respectful.

Use the space below to list your three dislikes:

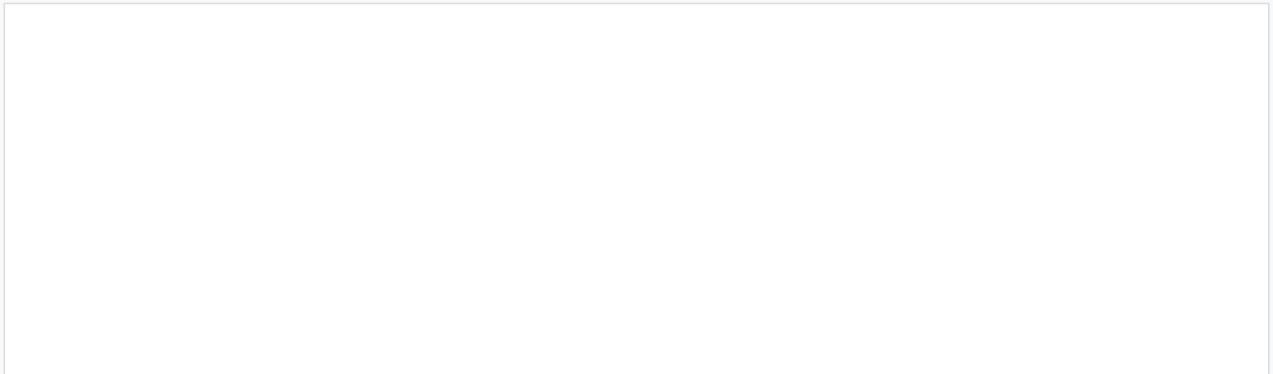

Section 3: Drawing Time

Draw a picture that represents something you like or dislike.

Use colors, symbols, or anything that helps express your feelings.

Consider using the following questions to guide your drawing:

- What does the activity look like?
- What colors do you associate with the activity?
- How does the activity make you feel?

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin black border, intended for a drawing. It occupies the lower half of the page, below the guiding questions.

Section 4: Writing Time

Write a short paragraph (5-7 sentences) about why you like or dislike something.

Try to use descriptive words and explain your reasons.

Use the space below to write your paragraph:

Activity 1: Likes and Dislikes List

Create a list of your top three likes and dislikes.

Be as specific as possible.

Use the space below to create your list:

Likes:

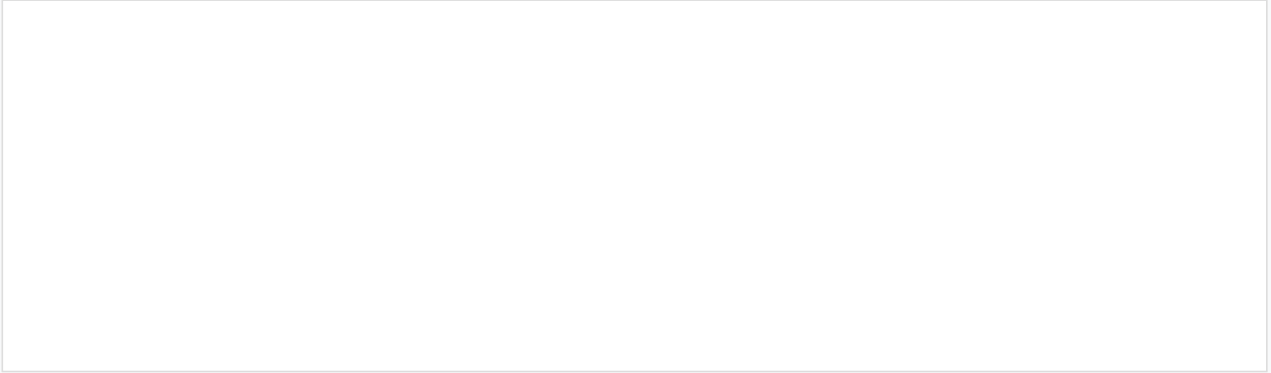

Dislikes:

Activity 2: Drawing Expression

Draw a picture that represents one of your likes or dislikes.

Consider using symbols, colors, or patterns to convey your feelings.

Use the space below to draw your picture:

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin black border, intended for a drawing. It occupies the lower half of the activity section.

Activity 3: Descriptive Writing

Write a paragraph about one of your likes or dislikes.

Use descriptive words to explain why you feel the way you do.

Try to include sensory details like what you see, hear, or feel when you think about the activity.

Use the space below to write your paragraph:

Activity 4: Poetry Corner

Write a short poem (4-6 lines) about something you like or dislike.

Use rhyme, metaphor, or simile to make your poem engaging and expressive.

Use the space below to write your poem:

Activity 5: Interview a Friend

Choose a friend or family member and ask them about their likes and dislikes.

Write down their responses and compare them with your own.

Use the space below to record your findings:

Conclusion

Congratulations! You have completed the "Exploring My World: What I Like and Hate" homework assignment. Remember to review your work for errors and completeness, and be proud of your creative expression.

Parent/Guardian Notes

- * Encourage your child to be honest and expressive about their likes and dislikes.
- * Ask open-ended questions to help them think critically about their preferences.
- * Provide a quiet and comfortable workspace for your child to complete the assignment.
- * Offer guidance on spelling and grammar if needed, but let your child take the lead in their creative expression.
- * Discuss with your child how their preferences might be similar to or different from others, promoting empathy and understanding.

Self-Assessment Opportunities

- * Encourage your child to reflect on their work and think about what they learned about themselves.
- * Ask your child to identify what they enjoyed most about the assignment and what they found challenging.
- * Discuss with your child how they can apply what they learned to future assignments or real-life situations, promoting independent learning and critical thinking.