

PLANIT
TEACHERS

Exploring Creation and Responsibility: A Comparative Analysis

---

Student Name: _____

Class: _____

Due Date: _____

Introduction

This homework assignment is designed to help you analyze the theme of creation and responsibility in literary works. You will explore the myth of Prometheus, William Blake's *The Tiger*, and Mary Shelley's *Frankenstein* to gain a deeper understanding of the authors' perspectives on human nature and morality.

Section 1: Reading and Analysis

Reading Assignment:

- The myth of Prometheus
- *The Tiger* by William Blake
- Excerpts from *Frankenstein* by Mary Shelley

Analysis Questions:

1. What are the consequences of creation and playing God in each work?

2. How do the authors portray the relationship between creators and their creations?

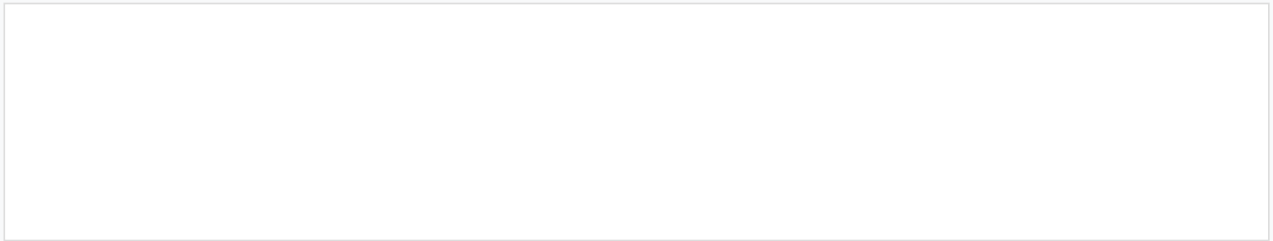

3. What commentary do the authors offer on human nature and morality?

Section 2: Comparative Analysis

Venn Diagram Activity:

Create a Venn diagram to compare and contrast the theme of creation and responsibility across the three works. Consider the following questions:

- How do the authors portray the creators and their creations?
- What are the consequences of creation and playing God?
- How do the authors comment on human nature and morality?

Comparative Analysis Questions:

1. How do the authors' perspectives on creation and responsibility differ or align?

2. What insights do the works offer into the human condition and moral responsibility?

Section 3: Essay Writing

Essay Prompt:

Write a 500-750 word essay that analyzes the theme of creation and responsibility in the myth of Prometheus, *The Tiger*, and *Frankenstein*. Be sure to include textual evidence to support your arguments and address the questions posed in the comparative analysis.

Essay Guidelines:

- Provide textual evidence to support your arguments
- Address the questions posed in the comparative analysis
- Organize your essay clearly and write in a clear and concise manner
- Ensure your essay is free of grammatical errors

Section 4: Extension Activities

Creative Writing Activity:

Write a short story or poem that explores the theme of creation and responsibility from a unique perspective, such as from the point of view of a creator or creation. Consider the following questions:

- What are the consequences of creation and playing God?
- How do creators and their creations interact and influence each other?

Debate Activity:

Research and prepare arguments for or against the following statement: "Creators are responsible for the actions of their creations." Engage in a respectful debate with peers, considering multiple perspectives and textual evidence from the literary works.

Self-Assessment Questions:

1. What are the key elements of the myth of Prometheus, *The Tiger*, and *Frankenstein*?

2. How do the authors portray creation and responsibility?

3. What are the similarities and differences between the three works?

4. How do the authors' perspectives on creation and responsibility align or differ?

Conclusion

This homework assignment is designed to help you analyze the theme of creation and responsibility in literary works. By completing the reading assignment, analysis questions, comparative analysis, essay writing, and extension activities, you will gain a deeper understanding of the authors' perspectives on human nature and morality.

Time Management Guidelines:

- Allocate 15 minutes for close reading and note-taking
- Allocate 20 minutes for comparative analysis and chart creation
- Allocate 45-60 minutes for essay writing
- Allocate 30 minutes for extension activities, if completed

Parent/Guardian Notes

Encourage your child to manage their time effectively, allocating sufficient time for each activity. Support your child in accessing the necessary texts and resources. Encourage your child to ask questions and seek help if they are struggling with the assignment. Consider discussing the theme of creation and responsibility with your child, exploring real-world examples and implications.